Tioga Tanning Company Superintendents House

Hutton Oakland Road (MD 39)

Hutton

Located on the west side of Hutton Oakland Road (MD 39) in the village of Hutton, the Tioga Tanning Company Superintendents House is a large, gable-front frame house with some Colonial Revival elements. Facing east, the 2-story house is three bays wide and four bays long, with a 1-story garage addition to the rear.

The east facade has three bays on the first floor, consisting of a door in the south bay and two 2/2 sash windows in the center and north bays, all covered by a porch with Tuscan Columns and a dentiled cornice. This porch extends to the north to form a carport, supported by narrow poles at the north end, which is floored with brick. The second floor of the front facade contains one 2/2 sash window on the south side, and a pair of 2/2 sash windows on the north side. The gable contains one small 1/1 sash window.

The north facade, west of the carport, contains on the first floor, one 2/2 sash window, a bay containing no openings, a pair of 2/2 sash windows, and then one 2/2 sash window. The second floor seems to contain a similar arrangement. The north facade of the 1-story rear wing appears to contain a garage entrance.

The first floor of the south facade contains, beginning on the west end, an exterior brick stove chimney stack, rising above the roof to a corbeled chimney cap, a bay containing no openings, a door, and a shed-roofed one-story addition, like a bay window without angled sides. This addition contains narrow 1/1 sash windows in the ends, and a pair of these windows on the south side. The second floor of the south facade contains a 2/2 sash window above this addition, which is by necessity quite high, and a 2/2 sash window in the bay just to the west, which is lower. An interior brick stove chimney stack rises from this corner of the building, also with a corbeled cap. The south facade of the 1-story addition contains a 1/1 sash window in the west bay and a door with three lights and three panels in the east bay.

The west facade of the house is covered on the first floor by the gabled 1-story garage addition, which has no openings on its west facade. The second floor of the house contains two 2/2 sash windows.
